

All information in these materials is based on latest evidence and trusted clinical guidance. HOWEVER, they were produced before the current global COVID-19 pandemic. We would therefore like to remind you to continue to adhere to guidance from the government and healthcare authorities around maintaining social distancing, avoiding groups and staying at home when using or recommending these materials.

All up to date guidance in the UK can be found here: <https://www.gov.uk/coronavirus>.